

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1910.

Entered at the post office at Barre as second-class matter.

Published every week-day afternoon. Subscriptions: One year, $3.00; one month, 25 cents; single copy, 1 cent.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

5,605

London was again thrown in mourning to-day.

At the rate quoted yesterday, Barre water is worth preserving this summer.

Vermont is right in the style with its weights and measures conference. They are all the "go" this season.

As the baccalaureates would say, to-day was just the beginning of education for the Spaulding and Goddard graduates.

Anyway, Alice Thaw has got back her marriage dowry, even if Harry hasn't got back the fortune he spent on legal advisers.

Goddard seminary's constant intrenchment in finances furnishes in itself a first-rate course in conservative business, which the students might study profitably.

The withdrawal of Dr. F. T. Kidder of Windsor county from the list of candidates for lieutenant governor of Vermont doesn't simplify matters if Allen M. Fletcher should come in.

We have just got another tip from Mr. Haggood of Peru. Sh-h-h! It's something like this: Mead, he don't say nuffin—only, of course, it is couched in Mr. Haggood's most excellent English.

Now that the contractors and producers of milk have stopped their squabbling, they will take it out on the consumer around Boston. Somebody always has to pay the fiddler for the dancing.

The remainder of the state is pleased at the prospects for the resumption of a large business in Richmond, which was cut off through a terrible fire catastrophe two years ago. The rebuilding of the plant of the Quaker Oats company should mean a great infusion of life and prosperity for the town.

The agitation for uniting the president of the United States does not deserve to have further life. If once we have a president who is not a politician, then we shall begin to outdo ourselves in making that president splendid; and that does not fit our democratic estimate of a chief executive, which is, that the president is merely one of our number, chosen to act as agent for us.

A correspondent of the St. Johnsbury Republican, in writing about a recent $35,000 fire in that town, states that twenty minutes elapsed from the ringing of the alarm to the first stream of water on the flames. St. Johnsbury has a volunteer fire department, and, good as the system is, the illustration ought to show the value of a system of regular firemen always stationed in close proximity to the fire apparatus. Since the fire was within a stone's throw of one of the company's headquarters, the need is all the more apparent.

SHALL WE WORK THEM EIGHT HOURS?

This choice little bit of sarcasm from the Springfield, Mass., Republican is well directed: "The tyranny of a government that would make its departmental clerks work eight instead of seven hours a day is apparent at a glance. If President Taft enforces the eight-hour day in Washington, the oppressed clerks will, of course, know what to do. They should appeal to the courts on the constitutional ground that cruel and unusual punishments are not to be tolerated in the United States. Eight hours a day! What are we coming to in this country?"

The question is, ladies and gentlemen, shall we oppress our servants in Washington by making them work as long as we do? The situation reminds of the story just told about two Washingtonians, one of whom, while rushing down the steps of his home at about eleven o'clock one forenoon, was asked by the other Washingtonian what he was hurrying over. To which inquiry, Washington man No. 2 replied that he was hurrying down to the government office so that he would not be too late to go out for the luncheon hour with the others.

COLLEGE MEN IN PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL.

It is considerable of a temptation for a young college man to be offered upwards of three thousand dollars for the balance of the summer season on the balance of the summer season of Williams college. Such an amount of money with in easy grasp looks very inviting, when compared with the long grind which will very likely be required before he is able to command an equal amount in the ordinary business life which he may enter. But Mr. Templeton, if he is far-sighted, will see that professional baseball is merely a makeshift and cannot, because of the physical exertions of it, become a life work. A professional baseball player wears out before he has reached middle life and is no longer fitted for the skill and speed which is required to make the game the tremendously finished product that it now is. Therefore, the years which he spends in the participation in the game are as good as lost, so far as getting ahead in one's life work is concerned, although it is possible to lay by a competence, provided one is skillful enough to command a good salary and is frugal enough to save a reasonable amount of it. And when physical disabilities have made it impossible to command a fair compensation, or even a place on a minor team, the former college man finds himself generally in a worse position than he was in when he took his collegiate degree, for by that time it would be difficult to summon to one's assistance the training which was gained in college, and it would be like starting life all over again, or like a man in a boys' class.

In view of these considerations, it would seem a better policy on the part of a young college man to resist the temptation of the easy money which the league baseball teams offer him at once and to turn his face toward the life work, with its many drudgeries, but which will inevitably end in a more satisfied life than it would if the training of years in college were to be squandered. If money is the highest goal of ambition, it can be made in baseball; but a well-rounded life is not easily found there.

Current Comment

It's All Mapped Out.

After nominating Frederick G. Fleetwood for governor and L. P. Slack for lieutenant-governor at the Republican state convention, the rest of the ticket will be quickly filled. The others will be Guy W. Bailey for secretary of state; Edward H. Deavitt for state treasurer; Thomas E. Graham for auditor of accounts; John G. Sargent for attorney-general. These four nominees will succeed themselves in offices which they have filled with ability and distinction. —St. Johnsbury Caledonian.

A Wrong Report.

Judge Frank C. Williams of Newport, chairman of the state Republican committee, states unequivocally that the political dispatch sent out from Montpelier a few days ago to the effect that the committee was holding every effort in the governorship contest now on toward a certain candidate for the United States Senate, was absolutely false. This is not at all unexpected. The state committee is now, and ever has been devoted entirely to the success of the Republican ticket after it is nominated, and does not attempt to dictate the nominations made. It leaves the nominations to the Republicans and it simply officiates as a campaign committee for the election of the nominees. —Rutland News.

The philanthropy of Theodore N. Vail, of Lyndonville, was never more wisely directed than when he endowed a two-year course in practical agriculture at the Lyndon institute and made it easily available for the average ambitious Vermont boy that wanted to learn to be a scientific farmer. The improvement of agricultural conditions, the development of specialized and intensive farming along the most modern lines of scientific progress, is one of the greatest of the tasks facing the present generation of Vermonters. The old haphazard days when nature's always generous bounty was enough to spare for a sparse population inhabiting a great continent have gone by forever. The question of producing a sufficient food supply and at a price that people can afford to pay is one of the most vital issues confronting us to-day. States like Vermont, that are so rich in opportunities for agricultural development and profit, must take up their work in earnest, not only on their own account as a matter of immediate self-interest, but because they have got to begin to help feed the nation. —St. Albans Messenger.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

There will be children's day exercises at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

"There Can Be No Continuance without a beginning. There can be no completion without a continuance." The only way to capitalize your ability and your chance to use it is by adequate insurance taken now. Sixty year. National Life Insurance Co., Montpelier, Vt. (Mutual).

S. S. Ballard, General Agent, Montpelier, Vt.; N. B. Ballard, local agent, Barre, Vt. (Mutual).

The Time to Save

There are times when your necessary expenses do not equal your income. THESE ARE THE TIMES TO SAVE.

There are times when work is plenty and the pay envelope looks good when you get it. THESE ARE THE TIMES TO SAVE.

Now and then, perhaps, you earn a little extra money. WHY NOT SAVE THE EXTRA EARNINGS?

Four per cent. paid on savings accounts.

Granite

Savings Bank & Trust Company, Barre, Vermont.

Don't worry or argue over the quality or durability. If our label is on the suit, you are safe. It is the greatest compliment we can pay to a suit to put our name to it, and it's the greatest protection for you. It means we refund your money if your suit fails to live up to our reputation.

$10.00 to $25.00

SPECIAL

50 pairs Men's Cotton Pants.....85c
35 pairs Men's Outing Pants.....$1.25
These are $1.00 and $2.00 quality; same are slightly soiled.
About forty pairs Men's Shoes that are soiled a little from trying on, mostly Walk Over make. Priced from $1.00 to $2.75. (See them in our window.)

F. H. ROGERS & COMPANY,

174 North Main Street, Barre, Vt.

MONTPELIER

Funeral of James Wilson, Who Died Wednesday of Heart Failure.

James Wilson, a native of Ireland, aged nearly 70 years, died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John W. Leach, where he had lived for five years. The cause of his death was heart failure. He left a wife and two daughters, Mrs. Leach and Mrs. Charles Wells. Funeral services were held this afternoon, Rev. J. H. Taylor of the People's church officiating, and interment was in Green Mount cemetery.

The marriage of Miss Sally Oriskany, daughter of Mrs. Laura Field Oriskany, to Lewis Hamilton, of Montpelier, took place Wednesday, June 22, in Christ church.

W. H. Irwin, yard master for the Montpelier & Wells River road, had one ankle badly mangled by steam from a passing engine, a few days ago. His injury is not dangerous.

The mission study class of Bethany church gathered last evening to commemorate the tenth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. S. F. Blomfield. The anniversary date is not until next Monday.

The street signs for the benefit of automobilists have arrived and will immediately be placed on the proper streets. On them are directions for the trip to the White Mountains, White River Junction, Burlington, Montreal, St. Albans and other points most frequented by motorists.

Yesterday was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Shibley and, although there was no formal observance of the day, a goodly number gathered to offer congratulations. During the past forty-two years they have resided in this city, where Mr. Shibley has held many offices of trust. He has been postmaster here, is now vice-president of the Capital Savings Bank & Trust company, a trustee of Heaton hospital and at different times has been manager of the old Pavilion hotel and of the Consolidated Lighting company.

Twenty of the younger boys of the Y. M. C. A., accompanied by Secretary W. H. Picher, will leave Tuesday for the first trip of the season, going to Canada. The journey to North Duxbury will be made by train, and the party will tramp from there to the top of the hump, where they will remain over night. June 18, a second delegation from the association, numbering about ten, consisting of older boys, will go to the hump and Secretary Byron N. Clark of the Burlington association has arranged to have a class of boys from there make a trip to the same place the same day.

The Montpelier board of trade has been notified, through Charles M. Hayes, president of the Central Vermont railway, that several matters concerning the train service on the branch line, which were brought to his notice in a letter from Joseph A. DeBoer, president of local board of trade, will be attended to at once. The different phases of the situation have been left with the vice-president of the road, Mr. Fitzhugh, to look after and Mr. Hayes assures the board that there will be no further cause for complaint. Among the changes desired are better cars and more of them for the branch road. It is a general consensus for the train to be crowded and often many patrons have to stand on the way to the junction. Some conditions at the station also need to be remedied.

GRANITEVILLE.

All members of the Local Granite Mountain lodge, No. 1897, I. O. O. F., M. U. are requested to meet in Odd Fellows' hall on Sunday, the 12th inst., at 10 a. m. Purpose, annual parade and attendance at church. Visiting members will be welcome. Elective secretary.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all bills due Mortimer & Hadley must be paid on or before June 30, and all bills owed by that firm must be presented by that date.

SAID HE WAS REBUFFED BY PRESIDENT TAFT

Congressman Harrison of New York Had Gone to the White House to Introduce a Number of Rabbits.

Washington, D. C., June 10.—President Taft yesterday declined to receive Representative Francis Burton Harrison, Democrat, of New York, who called at the White House in company with two other representatives to introduce a number of rabbits who look up with the president the question of the expulsion of Jews from Russia.

The president received Representative Goldfogle and the delegation and chatted with them for fifteen minutes or more. Not one of the callers knew anything of the incident until Representative Harrison returned to the capitol and stated that he had been rebuffed by the president.

Mr. Taft based his refusal to see Mr. Harrison because Harrison, according to the White House version, charged the president and the attorney-general with having wilfully attempted to mislead Congress in the back-dating of the Attorney-General's summary of the Glavin charges against the secretary of the Interior.

Mr. Harrison was first quoted as having declared that he could assign no reason for the president's action. He said he had made the engagement some ten days ago and had received no intimation that his presence at the White House was undesirable.

Secretary Norton tips at first appearing to dismiss the incident in any way, but later, when he was informed of the positive statements made by Mr. Harrison, he told the story of what happened. He declared that the president had no purpose of publicly humiliating the congressman, as had been charged, and that nothing would have been said regarding the affair if Mr. Harrison himself had not made the matter public.

Mr. Norton said that during the congressional receiving hour he noticed Representative Harrison and Goldfogle of New York, and Representative Kellier of Massachusetts, with the party of rabbits awaiting the admission to the president's office and informed the president of the presence of the delegation. Mr. Taft announced that he would be glad to receive every member of the delegation but Mr. Harrison. He declared that because of the newspaper statements made by Mr. Harrison he did not desire to speak with him.

Secretary Norton thereupon invited invited Mr. Harrison into his office saying he had some affairs to discuss with him. Meantime he had the party shown into the president's office. The secretary then told Mr. Harrison the president would not see him.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

FANCY WESTERN BEEF

Pot Roasts

8 to 14c lb.

Saturday Only!

These are splendid Roasts. Price is a saving to you of two to four cents on a pound. We guarantee quality.

Native Chickens—about a year old—plump and first-rate eating, 24c lb. We couldn't supply demand for them last week. If you want one this week, ORDER EARLY.

Fresh-made Beef Sausage, 3 lbs. 25c.

Nice Smoked Shoulders, 15c lb.

Red Alaska Salt Salmon, 9c lb.

Our own pure kettle-rendered Lard, 16c lb. in 5-pound pails.

New Potatoes.....40c pk.

New Spinach.....15c pk.

New String Beans.....12c qt.

New Radishes, 3 bunches 10c.

New Lettuce.....2 heads 15c.

New Cucumbers.....5c each.

New Ripe Tomatoes.....12c lb.

Other new Vegetables. Everything that's in season in the market line is here.

If you appreciate the sort of trades we give you here Saturdays, order here right along every day. We'll see you square every time. On our word, try buying for a while.

"Where Quality Counts."

TASSIE BROTHERS
Tel. "Central" 64-L.

JUNE WHITE SALE

The "Peerless Make"

Muslin Underwear for women and children, Ladies' Corsets, Children's White and Colored Dresses, Hats and Bonnets.

Sale Begins Saturday

Ladies' Fitted Corset Covers, 12 1-2c each.
Our special 25c Corset Cover for 23c.
Our special 29c Corset Cover for 25c.
Lot fitted 25c Corsets, 32 size only, for 10c.
Lot sample Corset Covers nearly half price.
Ladies' Night Robes at special prices, 47c, 69c, 79c and 98c each.

Other bargains at 1.19, 1.25, 1.50 up to 5.98.
Combination Suits, corset covers and skirts, corset and drawers, special 98c, $1.25, 1.50, 1.98 up.

Chemise, Nearly all Samples, at a big reduction, 39c, 49c, 59c, 98c, $1.25 up to 3.25 each.

Ladies' White Skirts, always in the lead for quality and price. Ask to see them at 95c and the special value up to $1.25 for 98c.

$1.50 Skirt, new embroidery, for $1.39.

Lot Sample Skirts at 1-4 and 1-2 regular price.

Ladies' Drawers, our 25c special, for 23c.

29c Drawers for 25c. Lot at special value, 39c and 47c, also samples below cost.

Ladies' Princess Slips, special, at $1.39, 1.98, 2.25 and 2.98.

Children's and Misses' Drawers and Skirts, 10c up.

The Vaughan Store

Couch Hammocks

—We have them in White, Green and Khaki—16 oz. Duck—with National springs, iron frames and a good mattress, all ready to use for only $12.

Also a new line of Porch Screens in green, purple and wood color. Sizes, 8x8, 8x10, 8x12 feet.

"Let Us Show You."

A.W. BADGER & CO., MORSE BLOCK, Barre, Vt.

Funeral Directors. Licensed Embalmers.
Residence Calls: 25 Eastern Avenue and 115 Broadway Street.
Telephone: 67-11. Hours: 447-21 and 669-1.
We Use NATIONAL CASSET CO. Goods.
COMFORTABLE AMBULANCE AT A MOMENT'S NOTICE

Mr. Norton said that during the congressional receiving hour he noticed Representative Harrison and Goldfogle of New York, and Representative Kellier of Massachusetts, with the party of rabbits awaiting the admission to the president's office and informed the president of the presence of the delegation. Mr. Taft announced that he would be glad to receive every member of the delegation but Mr. Harrison. He declared that because of the newspaper statements made by Mr. Harrison he did not desire to speak with him.

Secretary Norton thereupon invited invited Mr. Harrison into his office saying he had some affairs to discuss with him. Meantime he had the party shown into the president's office. The secretary then told Mr. Harrison the president would not see him.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.

Mr. Harrison, according to Mr. Norton, said he thought he knew why it was—the statement he had made regarding the connection of the president and the attorney-general with the Balinger-Pinchot controversy. Mr. Harrison said he thought it unnecessary for the others of the party to know anything about his being refused a reception and thereupon left.